Bill Permits City To Give Sendoff Gift

Men and women inducted into the armed forces may receive send-off gifts from the city of Newton instead of from the United Veteran's Organization, as permitted by a new state law. The city is authorized to spend up to $10,000 for these gifts.

The exact amount the city spends will depend upon action by the Board of Aldermen, as the new law states that cities and towns may appropriate a sum not exceeding 1/200th of 1 per cent of the assessed valuation of the preceding year but in no case more than $10,000. The law specifies that this money is to be used setts hospitals have been rising steadily, as other prices have increased in this inflationary period. Business houses may be able to some extent to "pass along" some of the markup, but voluntary hospitals, being nonprofit institutions, must extend medical care to those in need of treatment.

Thus, every month in the year a number of hospital patients are treated free or at a reduced rate. The load carried by hospitals for welfare patients is now a much heavier one, due to the price curve, a situation that seriously affects the financial structure of hospitals, inasmuch as the present rate of compensation is far below actual costs.

Now under consideration by the Committee on Public Welfare are two bills designed to ease this situation, so as to enable hospitals to offer all patients the highest service available without at the same time penalizing the hospitals. House bill No. 950 provides an "allowance for the support of a welfare patient such amounts as are determined to be the equivalent of actual costs to the hospital which renders support and

Fare Boost on MTA Won't Solve Problem . . . It seems that about all the MTA trustees can do at the moment concerning the financial problems of that hard-pressed and money-losing road is wring their hands and stock up on aspirin tablets and red ink. No less an authority than General Manager Edward Dana discloses that the present indications are that the system will show a deficit of close to $8,000,000 for this year.

Under the law the trustees of the road are required to boost the fare to whatever height is necessary to take it out of the red and place it on a self-supporting basis.

MTA passengers might as well brace themselves for a fare raise from 15 to 20 cents. The trustees of the system have no discretion but to put one into effect unless they choose to disregard the law, in which case any group of citizens could go into court and compel them to do so.

But a fare boost unquestionably would be accompanied by a drop in patronage, as Mr. Dana himself points out, and it seems certain that a five-cent increase on riders would not produce enough added revenue to balance the MTA books.

The trustees thus find themselves caught in a terrific squeeze. If they raise fares to try to bring money into one pocket, they lose out of another pocket at least part of what they gain.

In the meantime, legislators who deplore the fact that the MTA displays such a consistent habit of losing money in large quantities are insisting that the road go ahead with costly construction projects which will cost close to $100,000,000 and push the system still further into the red.

Until the MTA can be lifted out of the financial morass in which it is now mired, it is nothing short of preposterous to allow it to sink deeper by undertaking projects for which many millions of dollars in bonds will have to be floated—bonds that will have to be paid off each year, with interest, of course, added.

Yet, the law-makers are insisting that the MTA trustees go ahead with plans for tearing down the overhead elevated line and building a subway to replace it.

It sounds well for a legislator to go back to his constituents, beat his breast and announce proudly that he fought the good fight to get rid of that eyesore of an over-

It is an eyesore, and it would be a fine thing to tear it down and to have the trains run underground in a subway. But, it might be asked, who is going to foot the bill? Not the MTA, certainly, because it can't meet the expense of providing the service it furnishes for the public. Right now the MTA trustees are pressing for the passage of a bill which would dump back onto the 14 cities and towns served by the road the responsibility for paying off certain of the subway bonds which must be met annually. Actually, that wouldn't change things very much because if the MTA loses money, which it does most of the time, the 14 cities and towns have to ante up to meet the April 5, 1901 deficit. This proposal would merely make the MTA financial picture a little brighter on

The Mayors and Selectmen of the 14 cities and towns, who now face the dreary prospect of raising a sizeable sum in their tax rates to wipe out the MTA red ink, are un-derstandably battling the idea of being handed the responsibility for paying off the subway bonds.

So far they apparently aren't fully aware that with record high construction costs, with the nation being geared to war production and with the MTA going steadily deeper into the red, the trustees of the road in effect are being ordered to go ahead with a $100 .-000,000 building program.

Several Causes for Loss of Revenue

What's the answer to the MTA predica-

There are several different answers. One is that it costs a great deal more to operate floor at the annual indoor drill the system than it did a decade ago. The other is that fewer people are using the MTA.

formerly rode to work in buses, street cars and transit trains now drive their own automobiles or get rides with friends.

And a tremendous number of women who natty blue uniforms and caps. patronized the MTA to do their shopping now drive their own automobiles instead. That is probably the heaviest loss of all.

This is reflected in the vastly increased number of cars on the road and in the extremely light patronage of the MTA between another argument why we the peak rush-hour periods. Television also should treat our murderers with is serving to keep more people at home and to cut down patronage.

It's easy, of course, to sit back and criticize the MTA trustees, and there have been times glands or adenoids. Chicago has when they have not seemed entirely prudent in their management of the road and when leading in the number of murthey have displayed a resistance to suggestions for the adoption of more modern transportation proceedings.

But there also are basic problems which are not easily overcome. The MTA carries nearly half its passengers in the two rush-hour periods which total four hours. The road must be geared to peak manpower for those four hours, and, of course, it must hire men to work a full day, not four hours. One thing that is certain is that the legislators from other parts of the State won't provide any assistance for the MTA. They're abiding populace and an effl-much more likely to add to its problems. And the MTA trustees presumably can anticipate now the indignant protests that will be sounded if they put into effect the third fare increase within two years and still show a deficit.

Newton Nine Opens Season To Be Held Against Medford Today

Weather permitting, Newton High opens the 1951 schoolboy baseball season against Medford today (Thursday), then Quincy on Monday and Arlington in the Suburban League inaugural, Friday, April 13. All are home games. (If either contest is postponed, it will be played on the following day.)

son plans to play his men this year depends on how well some of his prize rookies come along. Junior Freddy Dauten, star .320 rightfielder last season, is being tested at the backstop post, but other regulars, Al Phinney, first, Barkey Boole, third, and Fred Keith, centerfield, are expected to be at their old positions. (John Kreider will spell Boole at third against Medford be cause Barkey is ineligible until after that game.) Two pitchers, Bob Schlosberg and Gib Studley round-out the six vet-erans returning. Dave Bonnar, second, Don Flagg, short and ience and to establish a feeling Don Thompson and Pinky Hig. away from home. It is also degins, outfielders, complete the opening day roster.

Other players expected to see ction are Don Forbes, Neil Campbell, Dan Coffey, Lee Car-der, Ron Ruffo, Vic Voner, Fred Sutherland, Art Perkins and Bob Buonato.

Will GOP Leaders Follow MacArthur? . . . Bill on Public Council Hearings Stalled . . . Hynes in Favor of High Type Leadership . . .

If General MacArthur were a younger man, he would be a natural choice for the Republicans to back next year against President Truman or whatever candidate the Democratic party nominates for the Presidency.

MacArthur's age probably eliminates him from consideration as a potential Presidential contender, and the political question now created is whether the G.O.P. as a party will back his views and philosophies against those of the President.

At the root of the differences between Mr. Truman and MacArthur is the question whether MacArthur's views, if followed, would have plunged us into a general war with China, accomplishing exactly what Soviet Russia would like to see happen.

This may cause some of the men high in the G.O.P. councils to hesitate before lining up behind MacArthur in the furious controversy that is certain to flare around the world as a result of MacArthur's removal from his command.

As a military man and as commander-inchief of the United Nations forces in Korea, MacArthur used poorer judgment and even poorer tact and diplomacy in making some of the statements he did and in mixing into political controversies as he did when he wrote his letter to Minority Leader Joe Martin of Congress.

Whatever they may feel about the methods MacArthur adopted to make known both his views and his dissatisfaction with U. N. policies, a great many persons are disposed to agree with the stand taken by MacArthur.

As Congressman Christian A. Herter, one of the ablest authorities on international problems, pointed out a few days ago, Mac-Arthur presumably has been trying to force the declaration of some kind of official policy that would give real meaning to the war that is being fought in Korea.

But the problem of international politics is so intricately involved that the ordinary person is not in a position to decide for himself what the consequences of following MacArthur's policies might be and whether they might plunge us into an even worse mess than the one in which we now find ourselves in Korea.

Aside from MacArthur's seemingly unbreakable habit of speaking out of turn and of writing letters to the wrong politicians, also at stake is the fundamental issue of whether a more vigorous war should be waged in the Orient.

MacArthur offended the British and the French with his blunt assertion that we have been fighting Europe's battles in the Far East, and on the proportion of troops we have supplied in comparison to theirs, there certainly is some basis for that contention.

General MacArthur has done a superb job in Japan. On that there can be little dispute. Whether the military strategy he pursued in Korea is beyond challenge is, of course, another question but one that has nothing to do with the General's removal from his command.

MacArthur · wanted permission to bomb Red Chinese bases in Korea and to arm the Chinese Nationalist troops now on Formosa so that they might open a second front against the Reds on Korea. When he didn't get that authority, he was expected, as a military man, to accept his orders, do what he was told and keep quiet. But MacArthur, who has been the supreme authority in Japan for five and a half years, either couldn't or wouldn't do that.

One thing this latest furore certainly points up is that unless some agreement is reached with the Red Chinese we are in a sorry mess in Korea.

MacArthur has been fighting a war without any clear idea of what his ulti-mate objective was and without any orders of what he was to do or where he was to go beyond a certain point.

lot of people agreed with him that it would have been an excellent idea to bomb the Red bases in Manchuria and to utilize the Nationalist forces.

But in the minds of the policy-makers at Washington and in the U. N. Councils such a move would have involved the distinct danger of a general war with China, and, of course, we can't afford to spend our strength and bleed ourselves there while Russia sits back and waits for us to become weak.

So we're on the horns of a dilemma. Under our present policy our troops can go only so far in Korea, though nobody seems to be exactly sure how far that is, and, if necessary, the Chinese can scurry for safety across the Manchurian border where, under the existing fantastic arrangement, we can't

At this point it's probably a little optimistic to talk about driving the Chinese Reds out of Korea because now our supply lines are getting longer and those of the Chinese are becoming shorter, but we're speaking in terms of eventually terminating that strange and supposedly isolated war.

Suppose, however, that we do drive them out of Korea. Then what do we do? Sit down in upper Korea and make sure they don't cross the border again.

MacArthur didn't use much tact in writing, as he did, to Congressman Joe Martin. The Democrats understandably sputtered with indignation at his action in providing political ammunition for the Republicans. But as a military man MacArthur probably was having a rather difficult time adjusting himself to the kind of war he's fighting in Korea.

Here's a situation where the Chinese have great supply depots just over the Manchurian border where they have stored up vast stockpiles of guns, tanks, weapons and mines to be used to kill American troops, and MacArthur wasn't allowed to bomb them. Evidently it didn't make much sense to

MacArthur, and it doesn't to a lot of other people either. As for the injured feelings of the French and the British, who are outraged by the political statements of MacArthur, their indignation might assume greater impor-

Korea and didn't leave most of the fighting United States.

We have read somewhere that there have been about 20 American casualties for every one of the other U. N. countries, and it doesn't really seem that anyone is elbowing us out of the way for the privilege of getting at the Chinese Reds or to help guarantee the freedom of Korea.

Maybe it might involve the danger of a war to bomb the Manchurian bases and let the Chinese Nationalists get into the fight. But it may also be that General Mac-Arthur didn't see how we'd be much worse off fighting a general war with the Chinese than we are in our present predicament in Korea. He ought to know something about the situation.

Unless the Chinese Reds decide to agree to a truce, the war in Korea could run on indefinitely. A great many Washington observers didn't believe President Truman would have the nerve to fire MacArthur, regardless of what the General said or did, and it is quite possible that Ma Arthur shared that opinion. One thing you must say for Mr. Truman, however you may feel about him politically, is that when he gets his back up, he has the courage to set his convictions into motion and action.

Some of our legislative leaders, who talk that merry play, "Mistress Nell." a great deal about the democratic processes and government by the people, don't seem to be in any hurry to translate their words into action when the opportunity presents

The bill to require the Governor's Council to hold open hearings on petitions to spring murderers and other criminals from prison, is still being stalled and stymied by the House leadership which apparently is viewing it is something of a hot political potato.

Why this should be so is not exactly clear. Ultimately this measure will be put to a vote, and when it does those legislators who vote against letting the people know what goes on at the Council pardon proceedings may have a difficult time explaining to their constituents exactly why they favor such secrecy and privacy.

The Republicans, it is understood, intend to put their Democratic brethren right on the spot and go down the line in support of the measure. It will be interesting to see how this works out when the Democratic chieftains get through stalling around on the issue and decide they might as well let it go to a vote. They are likely to discover that a lot of their own party members believe the iron curtain around the Governor's Council should be removed.

The remarks by Hynes stood out in striking contrast to the eloquent oratory of Governor Dever and ex-Mayor Curley, but most of the listeners could see nothing politically treasonous in the utterances of the Boston Mayor, and some of them suspect that Curley and Dever may have been out of step with present-day thinking.

Curley in his speech paid great tribute to Andrew Jackson, declaring that Jackson was no hypocrite and didn't believe in the "high degree of morality which we hear so much about today.

Exactly what Mr. Curley had in mind wasn't clear. Most dinner guests interpreted it as a sideswipe at New Hampshire's Senator Tobey. But a good many of Curley's own political party would be very likely to take the view that a "high degree of morality" in the conduct of their government is not something to be frowned upon. Governor Dever made it plain that he considers too much importance has been attached to the Kefauver committee probe and the R.F.C. investigation and that they have been allowed to overshadow the big things President Truman has done for the people. Except for the allegations directed at former Mayor William O'Dwyer of New York, now the Ambassador to Mexico, there has been little to link the President with Kefauver committee proceedings, and certainly there have been no charges against Mr. Truman in that connection that necessitate any defense. Some of his wellintended defenders may wind up by embarrassing him.

When the new year begins in September, the League member may select her field of concentrated study from a list which includes local affairs, education, voters' service, social welfare, state legislation, international relations, economic policies, publicity, publications, and finance committee. Anyone who subscribes to the purpose and policy of the League of Women Voters can be a member; but an acting member must be a woman citizen of voting age, who can join by phoning Mrs. Lloyd C. Fogg, member chairman. General meetship ings of the entire organization are held three or four times a year.

In order to do its job well, League concentrates its study and action on a few issues at the local, state, and national levels. These issues are chosen by the members at the Annual Meeting and at the State and National League Conventions.

As a result of the League's efforts to interest its members in government affairs, both in their own city and in the United States ,the women read newspapers more understandingly and communicate with their representatives in the State House and Congress. Through distributing impartial information on issues and candidates and urging everybody to vote, the League believes it helped earn a victory on the last ballot, when both the lottery and old age assistance bill were defeated in Newton.

The Newton League and the state League both publish a monthly bulletin, and beginning May 1 every member will also receive a congressional newsletter. The finance committee's current problem is to start a fund-raising campaign this month, as the work of the national and state Leagues is supported by money raised locally, partly from members and partly from the public. The League of Women Voters of Newton was founded in 1923. Today its officers include Mrs. Robert E. Segal, president; Mrs. Lloyd C. Fogg, vice president in charge of membership; Mrs. George S. Alberts, vice president in charge of legislation; Mrs. Philip Paisner, recording secretary; Mrs. J. Ernest Smith, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Richard T. Mitchell, treasurer. The annual meeting for the election of officers for the following year will take place April 23, at the home of Mrs. William Macdonald, 170 Lake avenue.

ONE OF THE MOST FASCINATING stories I've ever run across appeared in the Boston Globe recently. A. P. reported that a Joe Willmore of Union Junior High School (Illinois) poured 104 points through the hoop in a Junior new squad, although not entirely green.

The Duddy's, of Waltham-Newton, lost to the Stoneham champs in the opening round 5-4 and Coach Jim Gaquin still insists that if he had several boys who didn't show up they could have won > FORE!-Coach Howie Ferguson is shooting for honors again this season (his fourth) as boss-man of the Newton nine. In 1948 Newton tied Arlington and Waltham for the Suburban flag. Newton was picked for the tournament, beat Walpole but lost to Lynn Classical in the semi-finals. In '49 the Orange clinched the League title alone, and were defeated by Durfee in the first round of the tourney. Last season Newton tied Watertown for the championship but the Arsenals beat them in a playoff game.

WE NEED MORE LEADERS like "Nipper" Maher of in the tournament than the other clubs. Waltham whose Little League Baseball idea has boomeranged into something big and terrific. When 429 youngsters turned out for the opening day tryouts to make one of the 10 teams allowed in the League, it impressed local followers, backers career, now getting his minor training at the Braves farm, and admirers of "Nipper," a great believer in baseball and Myrtle Beach, S. C. Fitzy was a standout hitting outfielder DANGER AHEAD!-Even though Joe Terrasi will be missing from the Waltham lineup next grid season that doesn't mean that the 1951 Crimson eleven will be "hopeless." In spring practice games Eddie Beck, Frankie Krol and converted fullback Jack DeVincent have sped, passed and steamrollered over their opponents.

THEY'RE OFF for the big, famous Patriot's Day Marathon. We're referring to Newton High's contingent of the VanTine A. C., Dick Fitzpatrick, Frank Keohane, Charlie Nangle, Curt Hookway, Roger Howlett, Fred Allard, John Monahan, and Jim Caffrey, the only veteran in the group.

PREDICTION DEPT .: - The old and now-wanted Suburban Football League will be revived in 1952 with Newton joining Arlington, Waltham, Everett, Medford, Melrose, Somerville and Malden in a league which will add more in centive, better crowds, and the honor of winning a title after a season's hard work. Watertown and Brockton are other possibilities. Brookline and Newton will of course re-

You Can Even Choose It for Economy!

Standard equipment, accessories and trim illustrated are subject to change without notice.

It is true, of course, that when men and women move up to Cadillac, their motivating thought is not economy. Their hearts are set on owning the "Standard of the World."

But if they needed another impulse to move them to Cadillac, it could certainly be found in the car's remarkable record for practicality.

Even on the basis of its initial cost, a Cadillac represents a surprisingly sound automotive investment. Indeed, some half million American motorists are driving other makes of cars which actually cost them more than they would have had to invest if they had purchased new Cadillacs!

And the surprise is no less when you look to the everyday aspects of Cadillac's economy. Few could ask for greater mileage from a gallon of gasoline. And the car's freedom from the needs of service-beyond the routinehas long been traditional.

And finally, of course, is Cadillac's tremendous capacity to serve-the years and years and years of wonderful utility designed and built into it.

Yes-when you want a Cadillac, you want it for what it is, and does, and represents. But what an added satisfaction it is to reflect that it is also so eminently practical!

We deeply regret that we are unable to deliver new Cadillac cars without some delay. But the demand for the car is unprecedented-and much of the company's energies and materials are now being devoted to the needs of national security. Once the car is delivered into your hands, however, we know you'll agree that-patience never brought a richer reward.

EXTRA!-Boston news headquarters reports that New- of the Hamilton School P.T.A. will be included soon in the Met. School Track League. This should please the Orange tracksters who are always hungry for titles. The Met. Hockey League director, Tom ers of the Kindergarten. Hines, announces that next season will find the numbers of teams eligible for the tourney increased from the previous eight to at least 10 . . . to make room for more teams deserving a bid. To everyone, Paris offers the endless fascination of the Louvre and the Eiffel Tower, the flea market where you can buy every-thing but fleas, races at Longchamps, opera at the Opera, wines and champagnes with every meal, the Montmartre and the Montparnasse, Pigalle and the Algerian quarter, onion soup at dawn, a remarkable subway system called the Metro, dancing in the streets and aperitifs on the sidewalks, Breton pastry shops, and Alsatian delicates-sens, Michele Morgan and Maurice Chevalier.

Paris is endlessly gay, infinitely polite, confidently avant-garde, beautifully balanced, extraordinarily chic, boisterously intellectual; it's everyone's second hometown, and how anyone can ever do proper justice to its 2000th birthday is something we cannot

The French, though, with true Gallic spirit, are going to give it a try. They will have music festivals and flower festivals, academic and political ceremonies, fairs and concerts, balls and concerts, art exhibitions and gastronomic exhibitions, special films and historic pageants, a birthday cake with 2000 candles, and a night bicycle race through the streets of Paris. It sounds like a gay party, and best of all, everyone in the world is invited, from April to December

If you do go, a word of advice: don't be too technical about those 2000 years. Actually, when 53 B.C., the city was large enough even then to muster an army of 8000 men to repel the Roman ingood many centuries off Paris' age, and the only reason we can think of is that a cake large enough to hold 3000 candles Paris' master chefs.

When Ucinite moved from South Boston to Newton 10 years ago, it occupied two floors of the building on Watertown street, and employed approximately 200 people. Written into the lease at the time, however, was an option to buy or occupy the entire building, if, and when, the need arose. -war production was limited. Metal ferrules, leather buttons, commercial metal stampings, electronic components for radio, these were some of Ucinite's major products prior to 1941. With the advent of the war, however, came the realization that the scope of Ucinite's operations was far behind its potentialities. Instead of making an electronic component which was but one small part of the final product, Ucinite decided to utilize its electrical skill and manufacture complete electrical assemblies. No small influence in the decision was the fact that United-Carr, the parent organization, had developed into one of the leading manufacturers of fasteners, an essential necessary to the application of the completed electronic assemblies.

Wartime Expansion As the war progressed, and Ucinite's "know-how" in the electronic field developed, new and different demands produced new and different undertakings. Production increased and Ucinite and United-Carr were both awarded the Army and Navy E for excellence in military production. Employment at Ucinite raised as to just what is going 200 people in 1940 to an all-time high of 827 in 1945. In 1947, as and the old story of "where a result of its production expanthere is smoke there must be a result of its production expansion, with new fields opening, and civilian contracts far in excess of operating facilities, Ucinite took If there is corruption, we want up the option in its lease and to know it. Will Half Your Estate be TAX FREE?

It depends to a large extent on how your will is drawn and how your life insurance is arranged.

A "Marital Deduction" may save your estate substantial sum in taxes. But unless your property is distributed in a manner set forth under the provisions of the Federal Estate Tax Law your estate won't get this deduction.

Check your property arrangements with your lawyer. He can tell you whether they will entitle your estate to a "Marital Deduction."

Thirty-four Million Checks

When you walk down the street or ride in a train or a passenger bus, count off every fourth person you see. By the law of averages, that person is wholly or partially dependent upon you, the great American tax-

More than thirty-four million people, almost one out of every four men, women and children in the United States, are living entirely or part of the time on checks from the government.

With the exception of war veterans and retired civil service workers, not a single group in the category which now includes twenty-five million recipients was eligible in 1932 for government payments. Its members did not collect a dime from the federal governent. Before 1932, they got along for 140 years without money from the U.S. Treasury. No one would deny aid to the blind, nor to the needy aged; but few who really understand big, central government would give it power over the blind and the aged.

Something has happened to the independence and moral outlook of vast numbers of the people of the United States-something which did not exist twenty years ago. Most of us remember the powerful moving U.S. Army recruiting poster displayed at postoffices during the last Christmas season. "Give us," it read, "the faith and courage of our forefathers." You don't need a detective or a legislative investigating committee to offer proof of how far we have strayed from our forefathers' courage and faith. Each day's newspapers brings fresh evidence of shattered moral standards; college athletes betraying their schoolmates' loyalty by selling out to crooked gamblers; an alarming rise of narcotic addicts among school children; city streets where no woman is safe

These things are sensational and they shock us. But the really shocking fact is that we are no longer moved by other and more widely prevalent departures from the moral values of our forefathers. Instead of security won by faith and courage, political racketeers offer a synthetic security without either. When twenty-five million people, in addition to those in government service, are wholly or in part dependent upon government payments, American character and moral fiber have been weakened. So, it is obvious everywhere that when central government grows big in responsibility and in power over the people, it grows corrupt, and its administrators go mad. So, too, when personal incentive and responsibility are removed from a people, that people suffers a moral collapse.

Question: Who Shall Decide Foreign Policy? MacArthur Should Have Resigned . . Estimate Budget $100,000,000 in New Taxes

This is a day about which historians of the future will be writing and grammar school pupils still unborn will be studying the day General Douglas MacArthur returned to the capital of his country after his years of service in the Far East.

MacArthur returns to a hero's welcome, wildly acclaimed by a people deeply grateful for the superb manner in which he directed the occupation of Japan, their imaginations fired by this austere, aloof man who is now so controversial a figure. Yet, underneath the fanfare and the tumult of the cheers, the blaring bands and the barking guns, is a tinge of regret that MacArthur didn't leave the fashioning of policies to the men chosen by civil governments to perform that task.

It is significant that almost as MacArthur was landing in this country General Omar Bradley spoke out against the policies which MacArthur espoused. Bradley is no politician and no back-slap-per. He's a soldier. He ranks with Mac-Arthur among the nation's top military men. There was no bitterness or rancor in his words. Yet, he made it clear that he considered MacArthur's ideas of how we should prosecute the war in Korea would be bad for the country. There is no question that MacArthur is entitled to the history-making welcome ac-

It is doubtful that anyone could have done a better job of occupying Japan than did MacArthur from the very day he landed in an enemy country with only a handful of American troops who would have been power-less to defend him against an uprising in a nation we had been fighting only a few days

MacArthur's service to his country as a military commander of our Pacific forces in World War II and as head of the occupation of Japan will live for centuries to come. His name is secure in history, and he has richly earned all the honors that are his.

Yet, few of the millions of persons who hail MacArthur and blast President Truman for removing him have any real idea of what his policies might have meant to this country in terms of blood spilled, lives lost and sacrifices of all kind, if MacArthur had prevailed.

Are we ready to fight a war with Russia and China? What do we have to fight it

The cheering crowds at airports and along teeming streets can't answer that, and probably neither can MacArthur.

General Omar Bradley certainly is in a General Omar Bradley certainly is in a far better position to know the risks and dangers involved in MacArthur's ideas and the military difficulties that would have to belle who takes pride in her actions and in the solution of the soluti be overcome in fighting a major war in the Far East, in moving troops and shipping supplies, to say nothing of the lives that would

As we see it, this isn't a matter of appeasement or bowing down to the Russians. It's a question of what policies are the soundest for this country and the United Nations to follow.

With all deference to MacArthur, that's a matter to be decided by civil governments, easily and gracefully that it was ball team, pinned a 6 to 3 defeat difficult not to suppose that on the Boston English High not military men in the field, and MacArthur was wrong to speak out as he did against she wore a kilted skirt whose noon on Claffin Field. policies he was supposed to carry out and width permitted free adjustment embarass his own nation with the allies to over her pony's back, and the April 24, 1941

If MacArthur felt so strongly that he was about this "villian." It behooves not prepared to carry out orders he considered unwise, it's too bad that he didn't ask to be relieved of his command and re-

How much new taxes the people of Massachusetts are going to be called upon to pay to balance the State budget this year, is the source of heated arguments between Democratic and Republican politicians on Beacon

Two of the best experts on the subject police is criticized. to be found in the House of Representatives are $25,000,000 apart in their estimates as to what additional burdens the budget now pending before the State Senate will impose upon the taxpayers.

You might well think that it would be a comparatively simple problem in mathema tics to take the total of the budget, compare it with the figure of the preceding year and come up with the answer of how much additional taxes must be raised.

Well, Representative Cornelius Desmond, of Lowell, the Democratic chairman of the House ways and means committee, which had the budget under study for more than two months, reports that between $47,000,000 and $50,000,000 in new taxes must be secured to balance it. Republican House Leader Charles Gibbons who sat down with a pencil and paper and poured over the same budget came up with a different answer. He insists that if the budget is finally engrossed, it will involve ber that an employe of the New-

the levying of $75,000,000 in new taxes. You will please pardon us if we do not step in and settle the dispute once and for all by supplying the correct answer, but we become very dizzy when we get up in the $50,000,000 heights.

We can, however, offer a word of cheer for our readers by pointing out that whether the sum is 50 or 75 million, it is just the beginning and that the supplementary budget which hasn't yet even been drafted will cost at least another $40,000,000 so that the estimates that the citizenry of Massachusetts is facing the ultimate prospect of close to $100,-000,000 in new taxes may prove to be

Beacon Hill observers are waiting now to Beacon Hill observers are waiting now to see what happens when this $260,000,000 dealer who advertises and who budget reaches the Republican-ruled Senate, advertises properly in the and while there is a prospect that the G.O.P. Graphic. Salons will claw millions from it, there is also the possibility that nothing at all will happen April 23, 1926 and that after a lot of noise and furore it will be passed and engrossed in substantially

This is one time when the Democrats are not too sorry that the Senate is under G.O.P. control because the Republicans have the power in their hands to cut this budget to whatever size they consider proper, and when they finally adopt it and send it along to the Governor, they have to accept joint responsibility for the new taxes that ride with

We are somewhat at a loss to be able to explain why this State budget should cost $75,000,000 or even $47,000,000 more than did last year's, and when we undertake to get the answer we become engulfed in a maze of intricate financing, as do most other people who try the same thing.

It's an astonishing thing that nobody at the State House can supply a specific and fool-proof answer as to how much this budget is going to mean in new

It's even more amazing when you realize that this budget amounts to almost the same sum as the total of the regular and supplementary budgets enacted last

But during the present fiscal year, which ends June 30, the State collected a year and half's income taxes since the people paid half a year last October 1 and a full year March 1. That extra amount in income taxes must be made up from some other source during the next fiscal year when the wage-earners return to the standard procedure of paying one year's taxes per year.

Then there was the abandoned property tax which yielded and still is yielding a tidy windfall but which will have pretty well petered out by the end of June so that there won't be much coming from that source during the next year.

at Cabot Park. It was Our La dy's opening home game and second straight loss.

Bob Costa opened the extra frame with a double that fell inches inside the left field foul line and after the next two batters fanned and heavy hitting Frank Flanagan was walked purposely, sophomore Jimmy Small drilled a single into left scoring Costa with the tie-break ing run. Flanagan also scored when catcher Billy Lyon let outfielder Kearney's throw get

O.L. tallied first in the 6th after two were out on a walk to Fannon, and singles by Tam-bascio and Mahoney. They muffed a golden opportunity in the 7th after Clements tied the game in the top half when Lawn threw wildly into left field trying to catch a runner going into third base on a passed-ball. Oldfield and Bertrand opened with singles and Kearney reached on a fielder's choice, with all hands being safe. But Lawn hit into a fast 1-2-3 double play and Bertrand was later caught try-ing to steal home while pitcher Richie Lord was at bat. In the 11th Flanagan saved the bacon for his team when he made a miraculous backhand stab of Oldfield's blooper in right field with the tie-breaking run on second and two out.

Of OL's nine hits, Bertey got 3 and Oldfield 2. Cronin, Fannon, Mahoney and Tamascio got one each. Lord once again turned in a reasonable pitching per-formance and Costa's tainted double was the only extra blow off him. He struck out nine, and gave up nine hits. He was the hero of a losing cause, Lawn had a miserable day in every department. O.L. got too raw deals on Bertey's steal of home Costa's double, when it looked Junior Richie Lord was the Once again three local high school products have made St. Sebastian; and first baseman Bob Manning, Sacred Heart. If they click (they're all sophomores), the Eagles will have one of the best ball clubs in several seasons.

Sacred Heart, last year's Catholic Division Three champs, got off to a shocking start losing to St. Clements 15-9 in a non-division game opener. Clements pushed over 10 runs in the 7th to win. Frank Flanagan, rugged football and hockey star, is the clean-up swatter for the Somerville team. He clubbed two homers in Clements regular Division leading to the field on defense. Newton Twi-League ball fans agree that the revived Cabot Park team, now handled by Phil Pattison, will clinch the American flag this season. Pattison, one of the better twirlers in this League, has rounded-up a star studded cast which has three of last year's B. C. aces, first baseman, Ed Collins and outfielders, Billy Ryan and Frank O'Sullivan.

Also on the squad are Tinker Connelly, Bob Barry, Bill and Paul Moan, Charlie Hopkinson, Austin Doherty, Paul Flynn, Buddy Keegan, Henry Geary, Dick Kiley and Norman Myette.

Buddy Keegan, Henry Geary, Dick Kiley and Norman Myette.

Coher kids's extently less tweether than the fourth of Cabot didn't enter the League last year but it has won the championship six out of seven times from 1943-1949.

Newton High fans will pay close attention to sophomore rightfielder Bob Sheppard, former Bigelow Jr. High star, who could equal Freddy Dauten's auspicious beginning of last year. Dauten also made the first team as a sophomore outfielder and had a terrific season both in the field and at bat. Freddy is now first string catcher. Sheppard, a strappy lad, hits a long ball. Coach Howie Ferguson's hopes for a did score on a forced play at bright season hinges on newcomers, Sheppard, second base-man Johnny Kreider, shortstop Don Flagg, and left fielder Pinky Higgins. And if veterans Phinney, Boole, Keith and Dauten repeat with as fine a performance as they turned in last year, then Newton could be on the victory road. Fergie does have the best pitching force in the League in Schlosberg, Studley, Rufo, Sutherland and Buanato.

We doubt if Waltham will ever louse-up a game this season as it did against Brookline in its opener. The Wealthy Townies won 3-2 getting a GIFT run in the ninth inning Giround's first bell better the season as it did against Brookline in its opener. The Wealthy walked and when rightfielder Stan Oldfield dropped Ray in almost "unbelievable" fashion. Waltham had just rallied for two runs in the top half of the ninth to tie the game then Brookline started to play heads-up ball. Conway walked to lead-off. Jim Archibald bunted and pitcher Phil Anton's which was called out and on throw to second was high and wide, both runners were safe. Larry Wilson also up to sacrifice, hit back to Anton and like Kearney touched the ball Phil tossed to first baseman Johnny Palmer but Palmer in foul territory.

NEWTON 9 — RINDGE 1

Good pitching and timely hiting paid dividends for Coach Howie Ferguson's peppy ball club as Newton won its opening Suburban League game beating Rindge Tech 9-1 at Tech Field last Tuesday.

While pitcher Ron Rufo scattered seven hits allowing one unearned run coming on a double and error in the 8th, his batting mates finally found the range and smacked ace twirler Ralph Dennison for three runs in the fourth and another in the 6th before he gave way to reliefer Billy Boudreau in the 7th. Off Boudreau they scored four un-earned runs and then added a solid blow on Dauten's homer in settlements in New England.

Singles by Krieder and Keith with the bases loaded gave Newton its first three runs and then compact signed in Provincetown Keith slapped a triple to center driving in Boole in the 6th for 41 names, while the number of

They missed a run in the second when Boole was out going into third base after trying to stretch a single into a double and then racing to third on an overthrow, yet Bar key turned in the fielding gem of the day in the 9th, catching runner off second base after he figured Barkey would throw to first on the grounder. Keith (with 3 RBI's) and Kreider were surprises at bat, getting two hits apiece. Boole, Dauten and Rufo also got two each, Flagg and Phinney one each. Flagg's fielding was excellent. Rufo struck out nine and only walked five. He was in trouble in the 6th when after fanning the first batter he gave up a single and two passes but then he whiffed the next two hitters to strike-out the side. Sophomor Bob Sheppard started in right field and went zero for five without getting the ball out of the infield but he was a little anxious on opening day and he'll come through before long.

Sacred Heart Parish, the "Church of Bishops," Observes 60th Anniversary of Its Founding

This year marks the 60th Anniversary of the founding of the Sacred Heart Parish in Newton Centre and to observe the event, reunion was held at the Newton Centre Women's Club last night (Wednesday). Rev. George Sullivan was chairman of the reunion and acted for the Most Rev. Eric F. MacKenzie, pastor.

Michael Dolan, then pastor of the Church of Our Lady at Newton Corner, who thought the idea fantastic and said there wouldn't be enough interest "to build a hen buys let alone a church" house let alone a church."

Rev. Martin O'Brien, then pastor of St. Mary's Church, Newton Upper Falls, and his curate, Rev. Matthew Flaherty, promised their help. At that time, Newton Centre Catholics attended one of hese two churches.

In 1890 the Most Rev. John J. Williams, D.D., late Archbishop of Boston, set apart Newton Centre, Chestnut-Hill and certain sections of Newton High-lands as the new parish. Dr. Waldo Walker of Central avenue, who was the founder of the group, was instrumental in obtaining the needed for their meetings, such use of the barn. A course in First Aid was given to the Scout mothers in the barn. The first objective of the Mother's Auxiliary was to raise enough money to erect a cabin at Nobscott, for Troup 6. By "silver teas" given by the mothers in their homes, forty dollars was collected and the cabin was built in the Spring of 1933. The members of the Auxiliary consisted of the mothers of the eight boys who made up Troup 6, with Mrs. E. S. Burkardt as president. With the teeming millions living in New York, Chicago and other American cities, first reactions tend to assume that all things important stem from the "big towns." That, however, is a rather fuzzy focus on the situation as it actually exists.

Certainly, we are proud of our cities—centers of business and industry. But for all of their greatness and impressive aura, cities In November of that year, the and their city folk populations, constitute only a certain percentage fathers of the boys moved the

One pound of conversation ... please!

Everybody has to do a little waiting once in awhile...especially during rush hours. Most of us don't mind too much so long as the "pound" we get is of good quality... and the service, cheerful.

People on party lines are particularly understanding of the need to wait once in awhile. Just as the woman at the busy grocery counter makes her purchases as quickly as she can to make way for the next person.

That's one of the amazing and wonderful things about party line customers. They know that others have friends with whom they want to talk or do business - and they realize that these others are entitled to the same courteous, efficient service that they enjoy.

The party line customer is a fine example of co-operation — of American thoughtfulness of others. And the great majority report complete satisfac-tion with party line service, despite occasional inconvenience and irritations.

EVEN MORE IMPORTANT TODAY

Quite naturally, we are more than appreciative of this cooperation, because right now with the ever-increasing demands of national defense we simply cannot offer all the one and two party line service we would like.

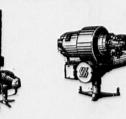

That's why we say "Thank you party line customers for the way you help us maintain service for everybody on your line."

WHY BRISTOL UPHOLSTERING IS DIFFERENT

(1) We don't tie springs just 4 or 6 ways—we tie them fully 8 ways and with special

(2) We don't just glue loose frames—we tan nout old dowels, replace them with larger and new ones. We add brand new corner blocks.

(3) We don't tack seams at just the ob-

(4) The welting isn't simulated—it's sepa-rate, individually made — that means it's stronger.

(5) The seams on the sides and backs aren't blind-tacked—all the seams are hand-

(6) We don't use ordinary fibre or ex elsior-we use the new, expensive moss (7) We don't just repair your cushions— we make brand new oushions, springs and all. filling.

(8) We don't put the fabric on carelessly—we make sure the pattern matches perfectly.

(9) We don't just cut from a patternwe fit your cover as carefully as a tailor-made suit.

(10) We don't settle for second-best ma-terials—we use only the highest quality throughout.

There's a difference in custom upholstery. At Bristol it's a fine science. The men who get inside your sofa or chair are qualified experts with years of specialized training. They studied reupholstering just as a doctor studies medicine, a mechanic studies machinery. They know the high standards of workmanship set by Bristol's -and they know how to meet them. Bristol's custom reupholstery department. is efficient-and reliable, too. You seldom have to wait longer than 2 weeks. What's more, we have a huge assortment of fabrics-over 200 different patterns, each in a range of colors. You're bound to find just the fabric for your modern or traditional home.

Will Discuss A Christian Approach To Sex Education Tomorrow

Family Life Institue To Meet Here

All parents of the community are cordially invited to attend the Family Life Institute sponsored by the Parents' Committee of The Eliot Church of Newton, May 3 to 6. The subject of the Institute will be "A Christian Approach to Sex Education." WELL QUALIFIED LEADERS

Well-qualified leaders have been secured for the series. Mrs. Beatrice M. Hutchinson, a special lecturer on the staff of the Massachusetts Society for Social Hygiene, wil speak to parents of pre-school and elementary school ages at 8 p.m. on Thursday, May Friday evening, May 4, and to junior high and high school young people on Sunday, May 6. Mrs. Hutchinson has been enthusiastically recommended by those who have heard her at recent Parent-Teacher Associations.

Mrs. Miriam W. Haseltine will lead the discussion for parents of pre-school children, after Mrs Hutchinson's lecture, at the May 3 meeting. Mrs. Haseltine has worked with families for thirtyfive years as a case worker and as a child psychologist with the Judge Baker Guidance Center. She has had her own nursery school for twenty-two years and for the past fourteen years has taught a course in Family Relations at the Nursery Training

VALUABLE LEADER

Her training at Smith College and Boston University and her long experience make her a valuable resource and discussion leader for the first meeting of this

There will be a registration fee of 50c per adult which entitles a person to attend both of the meetings for parents. It is hoped that both fathers and mothers will attend. Refreshments will be served.

Robin Red Breast

There are a few of us who are not familiar with the saucy but friendly Robin whose appearance each year on our front lawns and in nearby parks is usually one of the very first signs of Spring. We are familiar with him, of course, but how much do we really know about him?

While the Robin may do some damage to fruit trees and vegetable gardens, his constant war against insects and other pests makes him a valuable ally to the farmer and the home gardener. In fact, in the North and in some parts of the West the Robin is one of the most cherished of our native birds and is considered a welcome and helpful visitor.

According to the National Wildlife Federation, an organization designed to preserve America's birds and wild animals, the technical name for the Robin is Turdus migratorius. He feeds on many kinds of insects with no particular preference for any one type, although he is always happiest when he has captured a good-sized earthworm, which he will either eat quickly himself or carry home to his babies.

Aside from insects, wildlife experts at the Federation tell us that more than half of the Robin's daily food is made up of truits. Thus it would seem, at first glance, that he would not be too welcome to the farmer who raised strawberries, apples, peaches or any of the other fruits. The wise farmer, however, will not shoot the robin for what might well be called a bad trait. Rather he will cultivate in his orchard, or near his fruit trees, small patches of wild berries, which robins will eat and enjoy just as well.

If the farmer does this, he will tend to keep the Robin from destroying his fruit trees, and will have a well-trained, fleetwinged policeman to eat up many of the insects which do real damage to his crops.

In size the healthy Robin should be about 10 inches long from the tip of his tail up to the point of his beak. He hatches his eggs in all parts of the United States excepting those states in and around the Gulf of Mexico. In addition he may be found in abundance in Canada, Alaska and Mexico. His winters are spent in many of the United States, and he will travel as far south as Guatemala, Central America, Unemployment Fund Being Drained . . .

One of the matters to which the Legislature should give swift and direct action is plugging the loopholes in the hopelessly inadequate unemployment compensation law to end the chiseling which has gone on for years.

Whenever the disclosure is made that hundreds of persons have been collecting thousands of dollars fraudulently in unemployment compensation, the observation always is made promptly that the State officials administering this form of assistance are in no way to blame for what amounts to a theft of

The Newton Graphic public funds.

Presumable Presumably they aren't, but someone certainly is responsible for the fact that the handling of unemployment compensation, involving millions of dollars, is so haphazard and slovenly that vast sums of money are wasted and paid out to persons not entitled to the compensation.

And if the State officials in charge of the matter are not responsible, then the law under which they function obviously is loaded with loopholes and should be revised by the Legislature.

The present situation not only places drain but is unfair to the legitimate and honest worker who finds that the money provided for his protection is handed out to phonies and chiselers not entitled to get it, it brings to the subject a thorn

Even now a move is underway to recover noney paid out as unemployment compensa- tained by study at tion to persons who pretended to be out of abroad, and practical experience work, when actually they had quit one job in the College Settlement of New and taken another, to young women who York City. One way to discourage this form of chiseling would be to prosecute criminally some of persons who perpetrate this fraud upon

Now, however, we're getting action. In was heartily recalled after his Essex County, a two-fisted district attorney and an intrepid police chief have rolled up their sleeves and served notice that they're not going to stand for the law being broken able to appear on account of a at penny socials.

A clergyman in Salem, who had arranged to run a penny sale to raise some money for his church, was firmly instructed to call off the event. He complied with the order but then pointedly suggested that the energetic law-enforcement authorities might do better if they cracked down on some of the organized crime in the county.

That is a thought, even though it ap parently hasn't yet occurred to the public officials who are concentrating on seeing that no gangland slayings break out at any penny

Essex County District Attorney Hugh A. Cregg has taken the position that penny socials are illegal and that if anyone asks chemist and bacteriologist, conhim whether they are he will have to say so.

Up in Lawrence, which is in Essex County, the municipal authorities are a little hard men of wealth and men of humof hearing. At least, they didn't hear what ble means; men who have gained District Attorney Cregg said, and they aren't business, and men who toil at going to ask him to repeat it.

There isn't much doubt but that penny sales are illegal, but it will be time enough to crack down on them after the bookies are to curb these pests and it is more cleaned up, and we don't appear to be making than probable that a few of them any great strides toward that objective.

Subsidence is the leaning of place under them. In Hyde Park a church and several houses have been righted again. The group was also interested in the black of the houses due to the fumes from the burning culm banks. After supper they attended "fun night" which is a community event at the Waverly Community House.

Sunday was a free day to be spent with the families. Many went to church and also a broad-cast by the school glee club. VIEW COAL MINES

Monday the long-awaited trip into the coal mines was taken. The students donned mining helmets and went down to watch the miners at their work. It was there that they really appreciated the miners' problems and job. Lunch was taten in a glacial "pot-hole" and

(1) We don't tie springs just 4 or 6 ways
—we tie them fully 8 ways and with special twine.

(2) We don't just glue loose frames—we tan nout old dowels, replace them with larger and new ones. We add brand new corner blocks.

(3) We don't tack se vious spots-we hand sew seams through out the piece.

(4) The welting isn't simulated—it's separate, individually made - that means it's

(5) The seams on the sides and backs aren't blind-tacked—all the seams are hand-(6) We don't use ordinary fibre or ex celsior-we use the new, expensive moss

(7) We don't just repair your cushions—we make brand new cushions, springs and all. (8) We don't put the fabric on carelessly make sure the pattern matches per-

(9) We don't just cut from a pattern— we fit your cover as carefully as a tailor-made suit.

(10) We don't settle for second-best ma-terials—we use only the highest quality throughout.

At Bristol it's a fine science. The men who get inside your sofa or chair are qualified experts with years of specialized training. They studied reupholstering just as a doctor studies medicine, a mechanie studies machinery. They know the high standards of workmanship set by Bristol's -and they know how to meet them. Bristol's custom reupholstery department is efficient-and reliable, too. You seldom have to wait longer than 2 weeks. What's more, we have a huge assortment of fabrics-over 200 different patterns, each in a range of colors. You're bound to find just the fabric for your modern or traditional home.
